

ESG Reporting in 2024

Staying compliant with global ESG standards is crucial for businesses in 2024. Here's a snapshot of reporting frameworks and their timelines to help you stay ahead.

GRI (Global Reporting Initiative)

Framework: GRI

Reporting Period: Annual Fiscal Year
Reporting

Note: One of the most widely used frameworks, GRI ensures transparency across social, environmental, and economic impacts.

SASB (Sustainability Accounting Standards Board)

Framework: SASB

Reporting Period: Annual Fiscal Year Reporting

Note: SASB focuses on financially material sustainability information across various sectors, aligning with investor needs.

TNFD (Taskforce on Nature-related Financial Disclosures)

Framework: TNFD

Reporting Period: Annual Fiscal Year

Reporting

Special Note: 2024 marks the year for early adopters. Businesses stepping up their nature-related financial disclosures will lead the way.

ESRS (European Sustainability Reporting Standards)

Framework: ESRS

Reporting Period: Annual Fiscal Year

Reporting for Large EU Entities

Special Note: From January 1st, 2024, large EU entities must comply with these standards to support sustainability efforts at a regional level.

IFRS (International Financial Reporting Standards)

Framework: IFRS

Reporting Period: Annual Fiscal Year
Reporting

Special Note: The first cohort under IFRS will begin reporting in January 2024, providing a robust approach to global financial sustainability.

UNGC (United Nations Global Compact)

United Nations
Global Compact

Framework: UNGC

Reporting Period: April - July 2024

Note: UNGC encourages businesses to adopt sustainable practices and report progress on implementing its Ten Principles.

WDI (World Development Indicators)

WORLD BANK GROUP

Framework: WDI

Reporting Period: April 15th - June 28th, 2024

Note: WDI focuses on global development and sustainability metrics, covering a broad range of socio-economic indicators.

CDP (Carbon Disclosure Project)

Framework: CDP

Reporting Period: June - September 2024

Note: CDP empowers companies to report on their environmental impact, including carbon emissions, water use, and deforestation.

Ecovadis

ecovadis

Framework: Ecovadis

Reporting Period: Year-round (Two-month window to respond)

Special Note: Ecovadis provides a continuous opportunity for companies to assess their sustainability performance and act on areas needing improvement.

S&P Global

S&P Global

Framework: S&P Global

Reporting Period: Multiple assessment windows throughout 2024

Special Note: The Corporate Sustainability Assessment (CSA) questionnaire is set to release in April 2024, allowing businesses to benchmark themselves on ESG metrics.

Ready for 2024?

With multiple frameworks in play, 2024 is the year to solidify your company's ESG strategy. Stay compliant and make a lasting impact!

Share your thoughts in the comments below! 📝

FOLLOW

Jay Monga for more such content!

