

The price you pay for being easygoing is not getting what you want.

Try and be a little “unreasonable” in 2024.

Fight for the life you want.

Mediocre people who work loudly outperform great people who work quietly.

Is it fair? No.

Is it reality? Yes.

Make 2024 the year you get louder.

Whatever it is you truly want.

Do yourself a favour and ACTUALLY go for it.

Go all in.

So at least if it doesn't work out,
you can't say it's because you did not try.

A silent form of self-sabotage.

Intensely focusing on other people.

Quit that in 2024.

There will always be someone richer, better looking, funnier than you.

Fun fact, you're that person for someone else.

Run by your internal scorecard.

Everyone who started something had no clue how to do it at the beginning.

But they figured it out by making mistakes.

Make your number 1 trait your “figureoutability”.

The level of confidence dictates the level of achievement.
